Welcome to our network of support for exciting hands-on elementary science education!

We are proud to be your partners in science teaching and learning. As schools focus on implementing the new standards (Common Core math and language arts, and Next Generation Science Standards), we are here to help you with information, planning, and events.

CRS provides YOU with the following services, all year long, at no cost to you:

Personalized support – tell us what you need, and we'll help you find it!

- Call, email, or make a science support request online, and we'll promptly put together a customized response with all the information you need so you can focus on bringing science experiences to life in your classroom!

Invitations for free BASIS scientist in-class lessons!

- Bring science alive with role-models & cool activities

Information you need, when you need it!

- Monthly updates (e-NewsBlasts) sent right to your inbox:
  Please add us to your "safe" email list.
  Community_Resources_for_Science@mail.vresp.com
- Comprehensive science resource guide mailed quarterly
- Online Planning tools and access to our online resource listings at www. crscience.org
- Free Field Trips for Teachers to network with other educators at top Bay Area science centers

Don't miss out! Ensure our record for you is up to date by sending an email from your preferred email address to CRS@crscience.org. Please include your name, grade level, school name, and district.
